Welcome to This Month's Word Circus

Here you'll find daily writing prompts to spark creativity and get your words flowing and ideas spinning.

With the daily Word Circus, you are encouraged to set aside anywhere from 10-15 minutes at the start of the day for free writing inspired by the day's prompt. Some prompts will ask you to write or finish a scene. Some are more reflective in nature. You can print this document and write on the lines provided or write in a separate journal or composition notebook. You choose.

The only rule is to set a timer and don't stop writing until the timer dings, rings, or sings.

That means no self-editing, no overthinking, and no perfectionism!

Just write!!!

This month you are invited to clown around with words, stories, and ideas as you take the daily writing plunge. Have fun and get to writing.
